The Rockefeller Brothers Fund annually awards up to 25 Fellowships to students of color entering the teaching profession. Outstanding undergraduate juniors majoring in the arts and sciences who wish to pursue teaching credentials and master's degrees and to teach in public elementary or secondary schools in the U.S. are invited to apply. Fellows receive up to $22,100 over a five-year period that begins after their junior year and ends when they have completed three years of public school teaching.

UC Riverside is one of only 27 universities in the U.S. participating in the RBF program. We can nominate up to three candidates to represent our campus, and it is common for 1-3 UCR students to be selected for awards each year.

On Monday, November 6, 2006 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Dr. Yolanda Venegas, previous and present RBF Fellows will talk about the program. We hope you will join us for their presentation and an opportunity to ask questions.

We would appreciate knowing if you plan to attend, to help us plan seating and refreshments. You may still attend if you do not RSVP. We look forward to hearing from you and seeing you!
