

DANGEROUS MUSIC

An Evening With Jessica Hagedorn

Jessica Hagedorn, National Book Award nominee and author of Dogeaters, The Gangster of Love and other books of fiction and poetry, will read from her work. The event will be presented in conjunction with the Los Angeles production of Dogeaters at the Kirk Douglas Theatre in Culver City. Born and raised in the Philippines, Hagedorn is a novelist, poet, performance artist and screenwriter and is widely acknowledged as a leading voice of Asian America.

The reading will be followed by a reception and discussion with the audience.

THURSDAY
JANUARY 18, 2007
7 p.m.

DOHENY LIBRARY INTELLECTUAL COMMONS
ROOM 233

USC

Sponsored by English, American Studies and Ethnicity, Asian Pacific American Student Services, Asian Pacific American Student Assembly/Program Board and Visions and Voices: The USC Arts and Humanities Initiative.

For more information, please visit our website or contact us at visionsandvoices@usc.edu or 213.740.6786.

www.usc.edu/visionsandvoices