

Friday, May 11, 2007

"Working One-to-One with
Student Writers:
Some 'Why's' and Some 'How To's'"

Guest Speaker ~ Muriel Harris, Ph.D.

Please join Muriel "Mickey" Harris, professor emeriti of English at Purdue University and founder and editor of "Writing Lab Newsletter," for a presentation and workshop. Ms. Harris has authored multiple book chapters and articles, and she has presented workshops and conference papers on writing center theory, pedagogy, and individualized instruction in writing. Don't miss a chance to hear her valuable insight and practice her various strategies and methods in working one-to-one with student writers.

SAVE THE DATE!

HALL OF FAME— BRADSHAW STUDENT CENTER

AGENDA ~ MAY 11, 2007

- |                |  |
|----------------|--|
| 9:00-9:15 am   | Continental Breakfast (Provided)   |
| 9:15-11:45 am  | Writing Processes: How do we overcome the usual obstacles that arise as we write?Writing Problems: What are some problems we see in student papers?Tutoring Student Writers: How is tutoring different from classroom teaching? |
| 11:45-12:15 pm | Lunch (Provided)   |
| 12:15-1:00 pm  | Tutoring Practice through role-playing   |

Due to room capacity, we will only accept the first 100 RSVP's!

**All faculty will receive FLEX credit for attending**

RSVP to Tara McCarthy via email (tara.mccarthy@rcc.edu) or phone (222-8794) by Monday, May 7, 2007 and please indicate if you have any dietary needs.