Sanjay Krishnan is Associate Professor of English at UC Irvine. He is the author of Reading the Global: Troubling Perspectives on Britain's Empire in Asia (Columbia U.P., 2007). In this book he analyzes 18th and 19th century literary texts to show how 'the global' was instituted as a peculiar perspective in the context of British imperial expansion in Asia. He has also published essays in a number of venues, including NOVEL, Boundary 2, Representations, and New Literary History.
