

You Are Invited

Reconsidering Our Differences: Redressing Racism, Homophobia, and Intolerance within the UC and Beyond

When: Friday, March 12, 2:00-4:30 PM

Where: INTS 1113

- Join us for an Urgent Inter-Disciplinary Panel and Colloquium on Redressing Racism, Homophobia and Intolerance within the UC and Beyond
- Recent incidents of racism and hate crimes on and around UC campuses are a call to awareness and action. This session brings together UCR professors from the social sciences and humanities to analyze the issues and the underlying conditions that gave rise to them. How can we best redress racism, homophobia and intolerance within the UC? Beyond the UC, how can faculty, students, and administrators join with local communities to encourage involvement, defeat indifference, and prevent acts of intolerance?
- Introduction: T.S. Harvey (Anthropology)
- Panel 1 - presentations by:
  - Yolanda Moses (Anthropology)
  - Kevin Esterling (Political Science)
  - Karthick Ramakrishnan (Political Science)
  - Vorris Nunley (English)
  - Juliet McMullin (Anthropology) - Colloquium Leader (15 Minutes)
- Panel 2 - presentations by:
  - Dean Stephen Cullenberg (CHASS Dean's Office/Economics)
  - Keith Harris (Media & Cultural Studies)
  - Tanya Nieri (Sociology)
  - Paul Green (Ethnic Studies)
  - Christina Schwenkel (Anthropology) - Colloquium Leader (15 minutes)
  - Concluding Remarks: Chair Tom Patterson (Anthropology)
- Sponsored by the Anthropology Department
- Participating Departments: Anthropology, Economics, English, Ethnic Studies, Media & Cultural Studies, Political Science, Sociology