

HEALTH HAPPENS HERE

JOIN HEALTHCORPS

HealthCorps is a comprehensive health education program founded and developed by host of "The Dr. Oz Show," heart surgeon, and bestselling author Mehmet Oz. As a part of a national initiative launched in response to a drastic decline in the health of our nation, HealthCorps trains recent college grads to work as community health educators. Based upon a "Peace Corps" model of employment, Coordinators serve two years in a designated high school and community. Coordinators advocate for health-conscious behavior from within the school, in order to foster a generation of self-empowered individuals today, for a healthier America tomorrow.

To learn more about HealthCorps, visit us at www.healthcorps.org

HealthCorps is seeking dynamic, proactive, and engaging individuals to teach its school health curriculum and coordinate school/community health promotion events.

Responsibilities:

- Teach hands-on HealthCorps curriculum (fitness, nutrition, mental resilience in high school classrooms);
- Collaborate with school staff;
- Plan & execute health promotion events at school site (i.e. health fairs, Teen Battle Chef, etc.);
- Serve as a mentor to the students;
- Lead after-school programming;
- Attend summer training and ongoing professional development sessions.

Qualifications:

- Minimum GPA of 3.0
- Passion and knowledge of health, education, and health disparities
- Experience working with students and communities
- Strong interpersonal skills
- Ability to handle multiple projects
- Bilingual a plus
- U.S. Citizen

HealthCorps Coordinator Position, 2011-2013

To Apply to become a
HealthCorps Coordinator:

<http://www.healthcorps.net/coordinators/apply-now>

Application Deadline:
April 1, 2011

APPLICATION PROCESS

1. Submit Application
2. Interview Round If Selected
3. Offer, Declined, or Waitlisted

INTERVIEW SCHEDULE & CITIES

March: NYC, Los Angeles, Tampa
April: Houston, Cleveland, NYC, Tampa