

Are you interested in becoming a stronger advocate for your healthcare needs?

The UC Riverside School of Medicine invites Inland Southern Californian Black community members to participate in a groundbreaking project to support Black patient self-advocacy.

Participants will be compensated for their participation.

Who Can Participate?

- People who identify as part of the African American, Black, or Caribbean communities
- Adults aged 18 years and older

To participate, scan the QR code or visit bit.ly/PatientSelfEfficacy

School of Medicine

