

WHEN PERSONAL MEETS PROFESSIONAL

Unpacking the Influence of Disability and Intersectional Identities with

DR. JUSTIN BULLOCK

Wednesday, January 22, 2025

5:00 PM - 6:00 PM

School of Medicine Education II Building, Room 104

All UCR students, staff, and faculty are welcome to attend.
Refreshments will be served.

SPEAKER BIO

Justin Bullock, MD, MPH

Dr. Justin Bullock is a clinician researcher in nephrology at the University of Washington School of Medicine and the Co-director of the Docs with Disabilities Initiative.

Justin is passionate about creating safe environments in medicine where everyone in the hospital is able to bring their authentic selves to work in the spirit of healing. Justin is a passionate medical educator: a teacher, researcher, and lifelong learner. His primary research focuses on how educators can foster identity safety in the learning environment.

In addition to his education scholarship, Justin is outspoken about his lived experience as a gay, Black, and bipolar physician. Drawing on his dual identities as a patient and provider with serious illness, Justin believes deeply that medicine is a lifelong journey of healing as much for providers as it is for patients.

Dr. Bullock will do a meet and greet session for participants after the formal program.