

California Seed Association

2022 CSA Student Seed Tour

Learn about the seed industry and discover possible career opportunities in this dynamic part of California agriculture and horticulture!

The California Seed Association's Industry Communications and Youth Activities Committee is pleased to announce that a CSA Student Seed Tour will be offered again this fall in the Salinas Valley. Seed industry professionals will lead the tour and students will be given opportunities to meet "seed people" and become familiar with their companies. The seed industry is an interesting and dynamic part of the agricultural and horticultural community. So, if you are interested in knowing how field, vegetable and flower seed is developed, produced and brought to market, you won't want to miss the 2022 CSA Seed Tour.
