

Biological Science Technician at USDA-ARS, Parlier, CA

Announcement Closing Date: December 19, 2022

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service, San Joaquin Valley Agricultural Sciences Center, Commodity Protection and Quality Research Unit, Parlier, California, invites applications for a Biological Science Technician position GS-5/6 (Salary $36,118 - $52,341 per annum), Full Promotion Potential: GS-9. A technician is needed to support research on developing new and improved management strategies for insects associated with fresh and stored horticultural commodities. The ideal candidate has experience conducting research on plant insect-pests, toxicology and/or molecular biology techniques. U.S. citizenship is required. Direct link: <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/692756300>. For questions about this position, please email at raman.bansal@usda.gov. The USDA is an Equal Opportunity Provider and Employer.