

Have you ever considered teaching at a California Community College?

The California Community College Internship Program (CCCIP) is an opportunity to experience the community college environment, expand your network, gain professionalization experience and receive advanced training in college-level teaching.

Interns will receive a $7500 fellowship stipend for the summer, during which they will engage in specialized training focused on community colleges and pedagogy.

For more information and to apply, visit:

<https://tadp.ucr.edu/uciccc-internship>

While this program is administered through UC Irvine, a limited number of spaces have been made available to UCR PhD candidates and advanced MFA students.

