UC Global Health Day 2022

May 7, 8:30am – 6:00pm PT
UC Santa Cruz (campus and virtual)

Centering Social Justice in Community Health

This day-long collaborative global health conference showcases the innovative research and initiatives occurring across the University of California.

Recorded welcome
President Michael V. Drake, MD
University of California

Chancellor's welcome
Chancellor Cynthia K. Larive, PhD
University of California, Santa Cruz

Keynote speakers
The planet's health and our health is one health

Vandana Shiva, PhD
Leader, International Forum on Globalization, Founder Navdanya

Deep medicine and the care revolution!

Rupa Marya, MD
Associate Professor of Medicine, UCSF, Founder, Executive Instigator, Deep Medicine Circle

Centering the disadvantaged: Reflections on community partnership and solidarity as research praxis

Ricky Bluthenthal, PhD, MA
Professor and Vice Chair for DEI for Population & Public Health Sciences; Associate Dean, Keck School of Medicine, USC

Closing plenary: Relational approaches in indigenous health: From paternalism to partnership

Adriann Begay, MD
Navajo Nation Senior Advisor, HEAL Initiative

Cristina Rivera Carpenter, PhD, MSN, RN-BC
Navajo Nation Program Officer, HEAL Initiative

Co-hosts

Ndola Prata, MD, MSc
Co-Director, UC Global Health Institute; Professor In-Residence, UC Berkeley

Samantha Ying, PhD
Co-Director of Planetary Health Center of Expertise, UC Global Health Institute; Assistant Professor, UC Riverside

Evening performance
Rupa & the April Fishes
At the Quarry Amphitheater

UCGHI is committed to making its events accessible to participants. To request accommodations for this program, please contact ucghi@ucsf.edu by April 22, 2022.

Register at tinyurl.com/UCGHD2022

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Global Health Institute

UC SANTA CRUZ