End Date of UCR Involvement: May 2023

5. Provide a Brief Description of the Study

This study will examine the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on college students of color and evaluate the importance of health protocols and assess the effect of the COVID-19 pandemic on everyday living, mental well-being, and experiences of racial unfairness among college students from communities of color. This study will also examine the impact of returning to campus during the COVID-19 pandemic. Close to about 100 college students of color (18 years or older) currently attending a CSU university, UC university, a community college, or trade school/vocational school will be interviewed through a survey. The researcher will analyze data collected from these surveys to examine how demographic, social, and lifestyle factors impact general well-being and their comfortability with returning to campus.

6. Describe How UCR Participants Will Be Involved in the Study. Specify if you have approval or permission from the local UCR department or group you will be approaching to do your study.

Close to about 100 college students of color (18 years or older) currently attending a CSU university, UC university, a community college, or trade school/vocational school will be interviewed through a survey. The researcher will analyze data collected from these surveys to examine how demographic, social, and lifestyle factors impact general well-being and their comfortability with returning to campus. Students will be forwarded the survey.

7. Describe the Participant Population, Recruitment process, and Consent of Participants

- a) Characteristics of the subjects: About 100 college students of color (18 years or older)
- b) Selection Criteria: College students of color (18 years or older) and students who attend a CSU, UC, community college, private colleges, or trade/vocational school
- c) Special or vulnerable populations: Because my study population is limited to individuals getting asked about anxiety, stress and comfortability might be at risk.
- d) Recruitment source: Social media only (Facebook, Instagram and Groupme). I will be using my personal account.
- e) Recruitment Methods: Recruitment is through convenience sampling (whoever is available) or snowball sampling (referrals). I also included a recruitment flier for additional interesting subjects. I would use email and social media (By using personal accounts on Facebook, Instagram, and GroupMe).
- f) Informed Consent Process: I will make initial contact with potential subjects and explain the study purposes and study purposes. I will also double-check with the subjects to ensure that they are fully informed of the purpose and topics and be prepared to issue additional clarification.
- g) Study Location: I will recruit participants using my personal social media, my family, friends, colleagues, neighbors, or referrals. I would be using my personal social media.
- h) Potential Problems: Given the recruitment approaches, convenience sampling and snowball sampling may follow in less variety of recruited participants.

8. Provide the Following Information About the Non-UCR PI's Institution.

PLEASE NOTE: FAILURE TO PROVIDE REQUESTED DOCUMENTS WILL RESULT IN DELAYS

If expedited or full committee review was required at the Non-UCR PI's Institution or if there are any questions or concerns raised during the UCR IRB administrative review, the Institutional Official (IO) may also be required to review and approve this research. The UCR IRB will arrange this process.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMISSION

Submit one copy of the completed and signed form (in PDF format, electronic or scanned signatures are acceptable) to the UCR IRB at IRB@UCR.EDU.

Please note that approval from the UCR IRB does not mean the relevant UCR department or populations has to participate. You will need to contact that department or group directly. It's up to them to decide whether they wish to participate in your research.
