Title:
“How to talk about science: Cultivate curiosity and inspire inquiry”

DATE: Friday, April 9, 2021

TIME: 12:00 pm PST

ZOOM MEETING ID: 963 2886 4096

PASSCODE: 929813

Host: Taylor Myhre

Abstract: Whether you are interested in informal education and outreach or more formal teaching, you'll be more successful if you engage your audience. We'll discuss ways to connect your listeners to your topic, by drawing connections to familiar concepts, such as climate or nutrition. We'll also discuss how to engage even the most resistant students (for example, some undergraduates taking a required course). A skillful communicator can make anything interesting, by cultivating curiosity and inspiring inquiry.
