

Plant Evolutionary Biologist

The Department of Plant Biology, Ecology, and Evolution at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater (<http://plantbio.okstate.edu>) seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin August 2022. The ideal candidate will address fundamental questions in Plant Evolutionary Biology, especially if using approaches that contain a genomic or genetic component. The position will complement departmental strengths in evolutionary biology, ecology, genetics, and cell and molecular biology. The successful candidate is expected to build an innovative, externally-funded research program, and contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching and mentoring. Effective and engaging teaching of introductory and advanced courses in the candidate's specialty is expected. A Ph.D. in evolution, ecology, genetics, plant biology, or a related field is required; postdoctoral experience is expected. All applications should be submitted online through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/93190>). Include 1) cover letter, 2) CV, 3) statement of research accomplishments and future objectives, 4) statement of teaching philosophy and goals, 5) statement of experience and philosophy in the areas of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and 6) names and contact information for three references. Candidates from groups underrepresented in science and academia are especially encouraged to apply. Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until position is filled, contingent upon availability of funding.
