

WOMEN IN DATA SCIENCE LIVERMORE

Monday, March 7, 2022
Virtual Event
8:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Register by February 27

WiDS Livermore provides an opportunity to hear about the latest data science related research and applications in a number of domains, and connect with others in the field. Everyone is welcome.

This is an independent event organized by LLNL Ambassadors as part of Stanford University's annual worldwide conference. We will livestream parts of the Stanford conference and provide workshops and networking opportunities. Select mentor or mentee in your registration form to participate in the speed mentoring session.

This year's Livermore event features a fireside chat between Kim Budil, LLNL's first woman director, and Jessie Gaylord, leader of LLNL's Global Security Computing Applications Division.

WiDS Regional Event

Note: WiDS Livermore will be facilitated on an external platform. Participants are asked to avoid sensitive information in all communications and interactions during this event. Video sessions will be recorded, and screen shots will be captured.

This work was performed under the auspices of the U.S. Department of Energy by Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory under Contract DE-AC52-07NA27344. LLNL-BR-830899
