

Department of Political Science

CAREER WORKSHOPS

International Career Options for Political Science Majors

A degree in political science is not just about preparing students for law school. This workshop is designed to introduce students to the many career opportunities available to political science majors in international government.

The speakers for this week include academics with experience in international affairs and UCR political science alumni.

- ❖ Dr. Kelechi Kalu, Professor of Political Science, UCR
- ❖ Dr. Yasemin Irepoglu Carreras, Assistant Professor of Teaching in Political Science, UCR
- ❖ Dr. Nilsu Goren, Program Manager, CBRNE Security and Nonproliferation, CRDF Global
- ❖ Nancy Huerta, UCR '17, MS Student in Applied Statistics and Data Analytics, Azusa Pacific University & Former Trainee at the European Parliament Liaison Office in DC & Brussels
- ❖ Brendan Rooks, UCR '21, MA Student in International Development Studies, George Washington University & Former Trainee at the European Parliament Liaison Office in DC

This workshop will be held in-person and via Zoom. Food and refreshments will be available to those who choose to attend in-person. If you have questions, please email us: adam.hobbs@email.ucr.edu.

TIME:

Friday, October 21, 2022
12:00 – 1:00 pm

LOCATION

INTN – Room 1020

ZOOM DETAILS:

Meeting ID: 917 6274 6530

Passcode : PScareers

<https://ucr.zoom.us/j/91762746530?pwd=d0tjeVFPC1dWR29QemozTzVQeTVudz09>