

ANDREA SILVA*ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
UNIVERSITY of NORTH TEXASTHE MECHANISMS OF IMMIGRATION CONTROL IN THE UNITED STATES

What are the mechanisms used by the United States to control migration, how effective are these controls and what are the implications of their enactment? Silva explores the historical trajectory from minimal restrictions to contemporary enforcement measures, highlighting pivotal shifts in policy and governance. Beginning with conceptualizations of the state she examines the core components defining statehood and their relationship to immigration governance. Emphasizing sovereignty as a cornerstone of authority, this presentation underscores the state's expansive powers over naturalization and immigration regulation.

TIMEFriday, Mar. 8, 2024
12:00PM-1:30PMLOCATION*OLMH 1212*ZOOM DETAILS*Meeting ID: 925 6971 6273
Passcode: 744851