

Global History, Culture, and Ideas

GBST001

ONLINE “Real Time” ONLY

Mon. & Weds. 9AM-11:50AM

This course emphasizes student participation by introducing interdisciplinary concepts employed by Global Studies scholars to explore contemporary political, economic, social, technological, and environmental issues. Students discuss and explore interconnected themes including human rights, the environment, population and consumption, infectious disease, and Information Technology.