

EMERGING SCHOLARS COMPETITION 2023

Announcing the 2023 Peter Lang Emerging Scholars Competition in Indigenous Studies

<https://www.peterlang.com/emerging-scholars-competition/>

Proposals are invited from emerging scholars in Indigenous Studies for single-author books. Proposals will be evaluated by a distinguished editorial board. Proposals under review elsewhere should not be submitted.

Proposals should consist of an abstract (including chapter synopses), a sample chapter (5,000 to 10,000 words), a CV, and statement describing how you are an emerging scholar, in separate Microsoft Word documents.

The winner(s) will be offered a Gold Open Access contract for their book and winning book(s) will be made available for free digital download. Planned manuscripts should be from 40,000 to 80,000 words in length, written in English, and prepared in accordance with the style guidelines provided.

SUBMIT TO EDITORIAL@PETERLANG.COM OR VIA THE WEBPAGE

Proposals should be submitted by 31 August 2023
Decisions will be made by 1 December 2023 and the winners notified shortly thereafter

For more information please contact
Phil Dunshea (p.dunshea@peterlang.com) or Laurel Plapp (l.plapp@peterlang.com)

PETER LANG
INTERNATIONAL ACADEMIC PUBLISHERS