Illicit Drug Use among Students

It's "Back to School" time and this topic is pertinent to anyone who has a young person in their life and for those who work with school-aged children and youth.

The use of illicit drugs including Fentanyl look-alikes, opioids, inhalants, multi-drug combos, injection drugs, and the misuse of prescription drugs is on the rise with our youth.

This webinar will cover:

- Strategies to support adolescents experiencing mental health struggles.
- The stigma around mental health disorders and substance abuse.
- Resources for parents, caregivers, and teachers.
- Narcan: a lifesaving medication - what is it, where to get it, and how to use it.
- Tips to identify students who may need help.

We are delighted to bring you the following presenters from our partner John Muir Health.

Natalie Centurioni, MSN, RN, CNL
Caitlin Coulter, MHA, BSN, RN, MICN
